Details

Improve your office organization with the Advantus 2000 Grip-A-Strip 24" x 1 1/2" aluminum display rail. Constructed from sleek and durable aluminum with a bright satin finish, this display rail makes for a simple and professional addition that will blend seamlessly into your office decor. This streamlined linear display rail will save you tons of wall or desk space compared to traditional bulletin boards.

Installation instructions

The rail contains a concealed internal roller system that saves you the hassle of using tacks, pins, or tape, making it a perfect office display solution for important memos, reports, photos, and artwork. The rollers automatically adjust to the thickness of an inserted photo, memo, or a multi-page document, holding up to 24 sheets of paper stacked in an individual position. Additionally, displaying important documents with this Advantus display rail helps to prevent damage associated with the use of traditional cork bulletin boards. The display rail includes double-sided mounting tape and mounting brackets, giving you two choices for simple installation wherever you choose. Upgrade with this modern display solution to save space and keep your documents secure.
