Product Description

4.3 Inch Capacitive Plc Embedded Computer Touch Screen Panel Pc Lcd

Product description:

Infrared IR touch screens are one of the most reliable touch technologies on the market today. Our infrared touch screens consists of a touch frame which is installed in front of the display. The frame is integrated with a printed circuit board which contains a line of IR-LEDs and photo transistors hidden behind the bezel of the touch frame. The bezel shields the parts from the operation environment while allowing the IR beams to pass through, so you are left with a grid of invisible beams in front of the display.
